

CORFAT

SCP7-GA-2008-218637

“Cost effective corrosion and fatigue monitoring for transport products”

EC funded collaborative research project within the 7th framework programme

www.corfat.eu

Project partners:

|                                                                                                     |                                                                                       |                                                                                          |
|-----------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|---------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|------------------------------------------------------------------------------------------|
| TÜV AUSTRIA SERVICES GMBH                                                                    |  | AT  |
| Vallen Systeme GmbH                                                                          |  | DE  |
| ABS, Europe Ltd.                                                                             |  | UK  |
| Federal Institute for Materials Research and Testing                                         |  | DE  |
| Aristotle University of ThessalonikiLaboratory of Machine Elements &amp; Machine Design |  | GR  |
| Gdańsk University of Technology                                                              |  | PL  |
| Instituto de Soldadura e Qualidade                                                           |  | PT  |
| Kraków University of TechnologyLaboratory of Applied Research                           |  | PL  |
| Nuclear N.D.T. Research &amp; Services S.R.L.                                                |  | RO  |
| Reneko AS                                                                                    |  | EE  |
| Naval Shipyard Gdynia, S.A.                                                                  |  | PL  |