

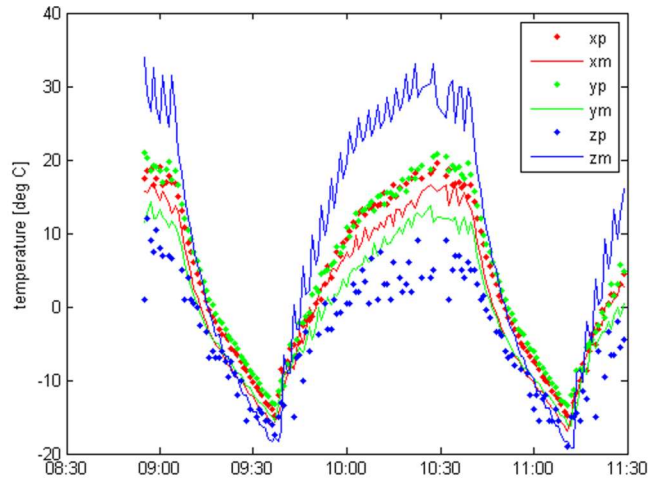

Figure 6, measured temperature of the solar panels on the satellite sides: x, y and z of the satellite (p and n side) as a function of time. The graph shows the slow temperature change resulting from the eclipse in the ~100 minute orbit cycle and the faster temperature changes related to tumbling of the satellite.